

I don't think I have met a single person who hasn't aspired to be something, who hasn't wanted to be successful. I have met a few people who have said they want to be significant, in that they don't just want to be successful; they want to leave a legacy. I know of a few people who are synergetically significant in that they have inspired others to share in and promote their significance – whatever their significance is (promoting their “dream”).

The ultimate point to be at in your life is synergetically significant, that is where people have been attracted to your dream and want to help further that dream. So what is the answer to getting to a point of synergetic significance? But even before that, what is the answer to being a success or being successful?

As you sow, you reap (Galations 6), what you put out, you get back, what goes around, comes around. We have all heard these phrases growing up. This wisdom is more than 2000 years old and finally the secret is out. So if the law of attraction is the secret, what is the answer? The answer is just as simple as the secret.

Consider the following:

Words form thoughts

Words influence emotions

Thoughts form beliefs

Thoughts influence emotions

Beliefs form attitudes

Beliefs influence emotions

Attitudes lead to actions

Attitudes influence emotions

Actions have consequences – positive or negative

Actions bring about emotions

The answer is CONTROL. The answer to being successful is being in control of your speech, your thoughts, your beliefs, your attitude, your emotions and your actions.

Achieving success, significance and synergetic significance is as simple as that.
